Guest Speakers

Nick Tokman — Friday Afternoon

Nick has been seen on the show for four seasons entertaining more than one million viewers each week. He is recognized for his constant, upbeat attitude, his unwavering focus on achieving his goals, and his determination in the face of adversity. Nick's grandfather introduced him to Deadliest Catch for the first time at a point in his life where he felt unfulfilled. After seeing the show, Nick decided he HAD to go crab fishing! Although his family did not want him pursuing a career in one of the most dangerous professions, he realized this was HIS life; he had to live it for himself. Four years later after embarking on his journey, after persevering through a series of setbacks and failures, including hospitalization, running out of money and battling homelessness, Nick landed on the very show that inspired him to venture to Alaska. As a cast member of the Emmy-Winning show, he battled some of the

Alexa Score — Saturday

Alexa Score is a professional wakeboarder, TV host, speaker, and cancer survivor. Born and raised in small town Spicer, Minnesota, she hails from humble Midwestern roots but now splits time between Orlando, Florida and Minneapolis, Minnesota when she's not traveling the world to film, speak, and pursue other various endeavors. She has represented numerous global brands including Liquid Force, Hard Rock Cafe, LifeProof, SPY Optic, Body Glove, and others. She has appeared in print and video ads across the globe and has a plethora of experience in the TV and film industries, including being a TV personality on networks such as MTV, ESPN, and Travel Channel, appearing in the SyFy movie Two Headed Shark Attack, starring in broadcast TV ad's, and has appeared on multiple live and recorded interviews on news stations across the country. She's currently a TV personality for the Minnesota Vikings, cohost of Made for the Outdoors (Sportsman Channel and Fox Sports Networks), cohost of Destination Polaris (Fox Sports Networks), and a member of The CW Twin Cities on-air crew. Her story has been featured in countless print publications including WAKEBOARDING Magazine, Alliance Wake Mag, CancerToday Magazine, UCF Pegasus, and was also featured in the 2016 PBS TV documentary, "Adventure Unknown".

Alexa was diagnosed with Chronic Myeloid Leukemia at age sixteen and has been living with cancer for the past thirteen years. While still being treated with a daily dose of oral chemotherapy, her journey is far from over as she continues to battle her disease and its side effects. She uses her platform to raise money and awareness for multiple charities including The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, BeTheMatch.org, and others. Despite dealing with the constant side affects of cancer and treatment, Alexa has made it a priority to live an active, energetic, and healthy lifestyle. When she's not filming, wakeboarding, speaking, or writing, she can be found fishing, hiking, volunteering, exploring, surfing, or pursuing one of her other countless hobbies. She looks forward to increasing awareness for her disease, inspiring others, and continuing her adventures for years to come.

Hello,

I am submitting the Team Travel Request for the Pennsylvania Association of Student Councils State Conference for the 2023-2024 school year. The conference will be held at Altoona Area Jr. Sr. High School in Altoona, Pennsylvania. Students will travel to Altoona and participate in the conference on Friday, September 22, and September 23. Though the event is typically in November, it is being held earlier this year due to scheduling constraints of the host school. Registration will begin before this school year ends and conclude on September 1, 2023. I am seeking approval early so that I can work with students and begin the registration process at the conclusion of this school year. Several students are interested in submitting proposals to be presenters at the conference, and I wanted to gain approval before they begin working on their presentations and proposals.

The CVMS Student Council has attended this event since 2016. Middle school students have always done a great job of representing our school and learning from this experience. If you have any questions about the event or would like more information, please let me know.
